

For once, can the Congress and FCC get out of the pocket of the big media companies, and let competition reign. Give satellite radio the chance to compete and program what they feel they need to, including local weather and traffic. Jobs will come from competition, not from enforcing outdated monopolistic laws.